NUXATED IRON

Increases strength of delicate, nervous run-down people 200 per cent in ten days. Many instances of 500 per cent increase in strength. If it fails to appear in this paper, ask your doctor or druggist about it. Wetick's Cut Rate Drug Store always carries it in stock.

TO END CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty)

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin. Make a paste with some powdered alum and water. Apply to hairy surface and after 3 or 4 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless, inexpensive, and safe method, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine delatone.—Advt.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wantling go to the wall, only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a South Bend resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

Henry Longaker, carpenter, 329 N. Francis st., South Bend, says: "I can cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I have used many medicines, but Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney medicine that I have ever taken." (Statement given June 22, 1904.)

On November 6, 1915, Mr. Longaker said: "I shall never forget the cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me and I am certainly willing to have my recommendation used as in the past."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Dr. Longaker has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

EVERY FOOT ACHE HITS

BRAIN A SEVERE JOLT

The nerves of the human body are so closely interrelated that a shock to any part of the body is echoed in the brain. This is particularly true, as every foot ache, pang of pain or discomfort shocks the whole nervous system and jolts the brain like a blow. That is why foot sufferers are so often unable to do themselves justice and why so many employers will not accept an applicant for a place who is a foot sufferer. Foot troubles, however, are easily banished. A 25-cent package of Dr. Sargol will relieve foot troubles and bring relief almost instantly. Two or three tablets dropped in a pan of hot water will furnish a foot bath that will wash away the pangs and aches of tired, sweaty, burning, sore and tender feet. Excellent when used for general building, leaving skin soft and sanitary. If your druggist hasn't Dr. Sargol, send us a note and we will gladly mail you a sample package. L. C. London Co., South Bend, Ind.—Advt.

Thin People Gained Weight Quickly

By Following This Sample Suggestion.

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aids to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—preparing it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Wetick's Original Cut Rate Medicine Store and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.—Advt.

COSSACKS DRIVE RUSS TO ATTACK

Germans Claim Czar's Men Are Forced to Battle by Bated Horsemen.

International News Service: BERLIN, April 11.—A war correspondent who has been at the eastern front since August, 1914, has an interesting description of the present Russian armies for a Berlin newspaper.

After 20 months of continuous contact with the enemy the German officers have a pretty clear idea of the present condition of the Russian army, the correspondent says. The information comes partly from prisoners, but the tales of suffering told by the captured Russian soldiers are taken with more than the proverbial grain of salt, because the men generally labor under great excitement or hope to get better treatment by picturing the situation behind their front as dark as possible.

Many of the prisoners complain that they were driven into the firing line by cossacks, whom they hate bitterly. These stories were not believed at first, but they have been verified beyond all doubt. A German brigade commander and his staff recently observed a detachment of cossacks which emerged from a village and attacked a wavering Russian infantry regiment from the rear to drive it forward.

A concentrated German artillery fire was directed against the cossacks and prisoners later said that they never experienced greater joy when they saw the hated "drivers" moved down.

The use of the cossacks for the purpose of driving other troops into battle may be of local advantage to the Russian commanders here and there, but these barbarous methods work more harm than good. Knowing that they are continuously under two fires, from the front and from the rear if they try to retreat, the Russian soldiers have become very nervous. They lost their confidence and what little initiative they formerly possessed.

For the soldiers there is no choice, although they know that their attacks against the German fortifications with their thousands of cannon and machine guns are hopeless. They must advance or die, because if they waver and turn they are threatened by machine guns and cossacks behind their front.

Wherever the Russian soldiers succeed in reaching a German position they fight like demons, because the capture of a trench means life or death to them. Their first line generally only carries hand grenades, the second the has rifles, while the third advances unarmed and picks up the rifles and other arms of the killed and wounded.

The men of a captured Russian company recently complained that they were not able to fire a single shot when they had to attack, because they were given rifles which they had never used before. The rifles had been taken from wounded or captured Austrians, and the Russian soldiers who were to fight with them did not understand their mechanism.

The Russian artillery is still excellently trained and would have to be feared with better technical equipment. Most of the Russian artillery officers are capable, highly educated men, but they accomplish nothing with the lines of material at their disposal. They lack guns and ammunition and what they have is mostly of inferior quality. A recently captured commander of an artillery regiment declared that the guns obtained from Japan are of little use and much of the ammunition bought in America is worthless.

All of these disadvantages are, of course, well known to the Russian commanders and the army administration at Petrograd, but they still hope to overcome them by throwing enormous masses of men into the fray and wearing the Germans and Austrians down.

AVIATOR ONCE KISSED HIMSELF GOOD-BYE

U. S. Bird Man in Mexico Writes of Thrilling Fight During Rough Air.

International News Service: SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 11.—Lieut. Robert H. Willis, United States aero corps, who was one of the two airmen lost on the initial flight into Mexico, "kissed himself good-bye" at one stage of his flight, according to a letter to his brother. "I had a very harrowing experience in a rain and snow storm," states the letter. "While flying through a treacherous mountain pass my goggles became fogged on the inside and I was so busy in the rough air that I could not wipe them, so that I was whirling along at 75 miles an hour unable to see a thing and with rain and snow that took my breath. At one time I really kissed myself good-bye. Several experiences of the members of the squadron on this trip would beat 'Nick Carter' and other thrilling reading."

COLONEL LEARNS MORE OF "BIRD OF DOUBT"

Harvard Curator Shows Roosevelt Two Specimens of Guacharo.

International News Service: BOSTON, April 11.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt was enlightened Monday as to the status of the Guacharo, the famous "bird of doubt," following a breakfast in the home of Dr. Sturgis Bigelow.

The "enlightenment" was done by Thomas Harbour, a Harvard Ph. D. and a curator of Océanica and associated curator of reptiles and amphibians in the museum of comparative zoology at Harvard, where two specimens of the bird have been on exhibition for 16 years.

The discussion of politics was barred, but for some time the habits, appearance and general characteristics of the "little devil," as the Guacharo is called, were thoroughly gone into.

From Dr. Bigelow's house Roosevelt, accompanied by his son, Archie, went to the home of Edward Brandegee, where they had luncheon. Dr. Brandegee was captain of the Harvard varsity crew during Col. Roosevelt's senior year. The colonel next journeyed out to Harvard where, in University hall, a meeting of the board of overseers, of which he is a member, was held. The colonel renewed his friendship with Pres. A. Lawrence Lowell at a tea in the Lowell residence, after which he enjoyed a light repast with his sons, Archie and Quentin, together with some of their classmates.

15 Ambulances For Russia Are Blessed In N. Y.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Fifteen automobile ambulances, destined for service on the Russian battlefields, were consecrated, blessed and sprinkled with holy water in front of the Russian consulate here Monday. Hundreds of men and women lined the sidewalks to witness the ceremony. Many stood with bared heads while a priest, in a cloth-of-gold robe, passed from one car to another, celebrating the ritualistic rites of the Greek Catholic church. From the steps and balcony of the consulate a number of men prominent of the church, government and army of the czar's empire watched the blessing.

TO TRY ORPET MAY 15

Defense Seeks Later Date But Is Refused. WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 11.—The trial of Will H. Orpet, University of Wisconsin student charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, was set for May 15 at Waukegan Monday. The defense contended for a later date, as university students are wanted as witnesses and the school does not close until June 21.

MORE DESTRUCTIVE THAN ANY WAR

Preventable Disease Kills Tens of Thousands Where War Kills One

At a recent meeting of a mothers' club the head of the health committee made some startling statements in comparing the death rate from causes due to preventable disease to the mortality in the great European war.

She showed that the great majority of human ailments are due either to unwise eating or to incomplete elimination of wastes, and urged that mothers should watch their children and see to it that they did not violate the laws of health. She called special attention to the value of castor oil as nature's remedy for constipation. The healing properties of castor oil are universally recognized and it doesn't form a habit. The distasteful features of castor oil have all been eliminated from CASTOR-JELL, which is 94 per cent castor oil with a delicious orange flavor added, and there is no trouble in getting either children or adults to take it.
